What is Making Ends Meet?

Making Ends Meet provides financial assistance, support and education to working families who are living in private rental accommodation and experiencing significant 'housing stress'. The service can be accessed WA wide via Anglicare WA Housing Case Managers or Anglicare WA Financial Counsellors and Money Mentors Mandurah.

Making Ends Meet can support you with:

- Budgeting and managing your finances
- Paying towards some bills or rent arrears to support with maintaining long term tenancy
- Negotiating repayment plans
- Referrals to other useful services

Making Ends Meet is for you if you:

- Are a family renting privately (not through public or community housing) experiencing housing stress or tenancy is at risk
- Are working or your family member in the household is employed
- Have been in stable accommodation for three months or more
- Are engaged with an Anglicare WA Financial Counsellor or Housing Support Worker

How Does It Work?

Your Housing Case Manager will make a referral to Making Ends Meet based on your circumstances and eligibility. There is an initial assessment to talk about your financial situation. If Making Ends Meet is suitable for you, a support worker will help to arrange an action plan and will work with you providing budgeting support until your situation is stable. You can phone Making Ends Meet on 1300 11 44 46 during business hours or speak with your support worker.
